

King Haakon of Norway Dies in Sleep at Age 85

Nation Plunged Into Sorrow for Idolized Monarch

OSLO, Norway (UP)—King Haakon VII of Norway died in his sleep today at the age of 85, plunging into sorrow a nation which had idolized its monarch for saying no to Hitler and traitor Quisling in the face of certain defeat.

He was the world's oldest reigning king and had ruled Norway since it won independence from Sweden in 1905.

Stolid Norwegians, hearing of his death by word of mouth, radio and black-bordered newspapers, stopped in the streets, bowed their heads, removed their caps and wept.

Ill Two Years

The Danish-born king had been suffering for more than two years as a result of a hip fracture which never healed fully because of his age.

In the last few days a respiratory ailment put him on the critical list and doctors prepared the people for the end. His heart stopped at 4:35 this morning (11:35 p. m. e.d.t. Friday).

Crown Prince Olav, Haakon's only child, automatically became king and swore allegiance to the Norwegian constitution at an extraordinary cabinet meeting at the palace this morning.

He agreed, but only on condition the people accept him. In a plebiscite that November, he got 80 per cent of the votes.

Shuns Nazi Proposal

When the military forces of Hitler's Germany invaded Norway in April, 1940, King Haakon and his family were forced to flee.

Hitler sent his ambassador to see Haakon in person and ask him to return to Oslo as puppet king with the infamous Nazi Norwegian army Major Vidkun Quisling as his prime minister.

Haakon, then 68 years old and nearly exhausted by the invincible Nazi onslaught, gave a simple, one-word reply: "No."

Finnish Composer Jean Sibelius Dies of Brain Hemorrhage at 91

HELSINKI (UP)—Finland mourned today the death of composer Jean Sibelius whose stirring music helped inspire the nation in its struggle for freedom from Russia more than 60 years ago.

Sibelius, who would have been 92 on Dec. 8, died of a brain hemorrhage at his country home Friday night even as British conductor Sir Malcolm Sargent was lifting his baton to conduct Sibelius' Fifth Symphony at University Hall in Helsinki.

Flags fluttered at half staff today throughout Finland and a state funeral was planned for the man who was revered as the country's leading citizen as well as one of the great composers of all time. Telegrams of condolence poured in from throughout the world.

Known For "Finlandia"

Sibelius, a tall, bald man had a stern face that seemed hewn out of granite and he usually was smoking a cigar. He burst upon the Finnish scene when the country

THREE BUSLOADS of Girl Scouts from East St. Louis visited the Bell Smith Springs and Mountain township areas last Saturday and passed through Harrisburg en route to those areas. The long 40-foot buses had trouble with the dips in the roads off the main highways and upper photo shows building up a concrete submerged bridge with rocks to enable the buses to cross the dip, between Delwood and Williams Hill. Lower photo is on a gravel road between Herod and Derby in Mountain township at one of the seven fords encountered on the route. Rex Kernes, representing the Area Services of Southern Illinois University, assisted by local guides, accompanied the group on the tour. It is expected 1,000 Girl Scouts from East St. Louis will visit the area during the next few Saturdays. Last year 900 visited the area scenic spots on six consecutive Saturdays.

Death Takes Mrs. Harry Holland, Former Resident

Mrs. Harry (May) Holland, 59, former resident of Harrisburg, died at midnight at St. Elizabeth hospital in Granite City. She was a resident of Madison, Ill. Her death was due to a heart condition.

Mrs. Holland was the daughter of the late Sylvester and Lulu Grace and was born in Murray, Ky. She was a member of the Gaskins City Baptist church.

The funeral will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the Gaskins funeral home with the Rev. Roy Reynolds in charge. Burial will be in Macedonia cemetery.

She is survived by her husband, Harry; three children, Kenneth Holland and Mrs. Lavern Latham, both of Fullerton, Calif., and Harry Lee Holland, San Francisco. One son preceded her in death. She also is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Irene Cudian, Mitchell, Ill., and Mrs. Thelma Rankin, Detroit, Mich.; two half sisters, Mrs. Ruth Goodman, Pontiac, Mich., and Mrs. Maude Hamilton, Harrisburg, and six grandchildren.

The body will lie in state this evening at Gaskins funeral home chapel.

Mrs. Charles Oatman

Funeral Services Sunday 2 p. m. for Mrs. Chas. Oatman

The funeral of Mrs. Eva Oatman, widow of Charles Oatman, who preceded her in death in 1932, will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday in the Gaskins funeral chapel. Rev. William Burroughs will officiate and burial will be in the Sunset Hill cemetery.

Mrs. Oatman was born in Harrisburg, May 18, 1874, and lived in Harrisburg most of her life. She was living in River Forest with her daughter, Mrs. G. G. Stevens, when she died at noon, Friday, but formerly had lived with her daughter, Mrs. J. O. Wells, in Harrisburg for many years. She is survived by her children: Mrs. E. V. (Bertha) Kennedy, River Forest; Richard W. Oatman, Leesburg, Fla.; Mrs. G. G. (Ellen) Stevens, River Forest; Mrs. J. O. (Hettie) Wells, Harrisburg; and Mrs. M. F. (Florence) Allison, Kansas City, Mo.; five grandchildren, five great-grandchildren and nieces and nephews.

Faubus Dumps Problem on Authorities; Comply, Ike Asks

Action Step in Right Direction, President Says

Urges People to Accept Integration Without Disorder

NEWPORT, R. I. (UP)—President Eisenhower today counseled the people of Little Rock, Ark., to comply with court-ordered school integration "without disorder."

The chief executive in a special statement expressed his first public opinion on the withdrawal of Arkansas National Guardsmen from Central High School in Little Rock in compliance with a temporary injunction issued by Federal District Judge Ronald N. Davies.

The President called withdrawal of the troops by Gov. Orval E. Faubus "a necessary step in the right direction."

"I am confident," he said, "that the citizens of the city of Little Rock and the state of Arkansas will welcome this opportunity to demonstrate that in their city and in their state proper orders of a United States court will be executed promptly and without disorder."

The President's statement was issued by his press secretary, James C. Hagerty, at the vacation White House here on Narragansett Bay.

Eisenhower conferred early today by telephone with Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr., in Washington, and expected to talk with him again during the day.

Hagerty pointed out to reporters that the school board was meeting in Little Rock today and apparently the White House and the Justice Department were closely interested in proceedings.

Caterpillar to Cut Work Force

EAST PEORIA, Ill. (UP)—The Caterpillar Tractor Co. has announced it will slash its 27,000-man work force here by 3,000 beginning Oct. 11.

Caterpillar President Harmon S. Eberhard said Friday the cutdown was unavoidable because inventory of products manufactured at the Peoria plant "have reached a level higher than the company should carry at this time of year."

Woman is Hurt in Truck-Auto Crash

Mrs. Katherine Ham suffered knee injuries at 2:30 p. m. Friday in a truck-auto crash on U. S. Route 45 two miles north of Eldorado.

State Policeman Adolph Sweat said a tank truck belonging to the Inland Oil Co. of Carmi and driven by Doyle M. Matz, 36, drove off a gravel road onto Route 45, into the path of an auto driven by Roy E. Ham, 60, Eldorado. Ham's wife was the only one who suffered injuries.

Speaks to Mother

Girl, 20, Comes Out of Coma First Time Since Accidentally Shot Year Ago

NEW ORLEANS (UP)—A 20-year old girl came out of a year-long coma Friday and spoke to her mother for the first time since she was accidentally shot by her sweetheart.

Carolyn Chetta, who was wounded Sept. 10, 1956, talked to her mother who has kept up a long bedside vigil at her daughter's bedside.

"I talked to her and she answered me," the girl's mother said. "I was so thrilled I could hardly speak."

Mrs. Chetta did not reveal Carolyn's first words but she said after she heard her daughter mumble she rushed to get the supervisor at the Catholic Charity Hospital, Sister Lorena.

"We had often prayed together that Carolyn would get well. When sister asked: 'How are you doing, Carolyn?' she said 'Okay.'" Mrs. Chetta said.

Carolyn was wounded on the eve of her wedding to her policeman fiancé. She and patrolman Joe Bergeron had gone to inspect an apartment they planned to occupy been practicing drawing his un- after the marriage.

Bergeron told officers he had loaded police pistol for Carolyn. He loaded the gun later and while playing with it the weapon went off, striking his fiancé in the head.

For months Bergeron took turns with the Chetta family at Carolyn's bedside before he became sick from the strain and worry over the shooting. An attempted murder charge against him was dismissed and he resigned from the force.

Highest Price Support Loan Goes To British-Owned Plantation

WASHINGTON (UP)—A British-owned plantation in Mississippi received the Agriculture Department's biggest price support loan in 1956—$1,446,605.

The loan to Delta & Pine Land Co., Scott, Miss., for 8,967 bales of cotton was revealed today in the Congressional Record.

It was more than double the next largest loan of $705,648 which went to South Texas Rice Farms, Rosharon, Tex., for 125,160 hundredweight of rice.

Rep. Charles B. Brownson (R-Ind.), who also made public the names of individual farms receiving the largest price support loans in 1954 and 1955, put the figures in the record. He said the Agriculture Department supplied the breakdown.

Brownson's figures also showed the recipients of the largest loans on the nation's two other major crops, wheat and corn. They were: —$149,220 to Jackson & Reinert, San Luis Obispo and Monterey counties, Calif., for 75,143 bushels of wheat.

—$138,627 to Richard Gumz, of North Judson, Ind., for 91,202 bushels of corn.

Brownson's figures also showed that Morrison & Quirk, Hastings, Neb., received loans for both wheat and corn totaling $243,700.

The state with the highest average corn loan was Arizona with $7,164. Arizona also topped the average for wheat loans with $16,646. California had the highest average rice support loan—$18,425. No state averages were given on cotton.

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson has contended that the big farmer benefits most from price support programs because he has the largest acreage.

Market Broken Into At Dorrisville

Money and merchandise, both in considerable quantity, was stolen in a break-in of Jewell's Food Market in Dorrisville last night.

Deputy Sheriff Everett N. Sneed, who with Chief of Police Ross Lane investigated, said the burglars entered through a rear door.

The following were included among what was stolen:

Eighty-five dollars in currency, $25 in silver money, one-half of a boiled ham, one-half of a barbecued, one-half of a pressed ham, cakes, pies, and four cartons of cigarettes.

Kerr Withdraws Request for SIU Housing Probe

CARBONDALE, Ill. (UP)—State Rep. Gordon Kerr (R-Brookport) has withdrawn his request for a probe of veterans housing at Southern Illinois University.

School officials revealed Kerr's decision Friday.

SIU said Kerr called off the request when he and State Sen. Glen O. Jones (R-Raleigh) personally inspected housing at the Carbondale campus Friday morning.

SIU also said Kerr sent a telegram to U. S. Sen. Everett Dirksen, asking him to make "every effort" to obtain approval of a three million dollar government loan for SIU to build additional housing units.

Earlier this week, Kerr had written State Veterans Administrator Willard Manning, asking that the Illinois Veterans Commission look into the housing situation at Carbondale.

Kerr explained he received complaints from veterans who said married veterans were forced to rent apartments in town at prices they couldn't afford because faculty members lived in the campus units.

University officials said Kerr sent another letter to Manning Friday in which he said the complaints "were not substantiated" by his visit. Kerr suggested that the commission "disregard my request for an investigation of SIU veterans housing," officials said.

Kerr said he found veterans occupying 99 of the 104 family units at the Chautauqua housing project. He said the other five were occupied by non-veteran faculty or graduate assistants.

Farm Outlook Meeting Sept. 26

Saline county farmers can get a close-up view of prospects for livestock during the coming year at the fall Outlook meeting to be held Sept. 26 at 7:30 p. m. at the city hall in Harrisburg, Farm Adviser L. B. Kimmel stated today.

A good attendance is expected for several reasons. The prospects for soft corn is one of them,
the cost of corn in relationship to cattle and hogs. The past season's feeding program was more favorable.

Farmers face some important decisions in buying feeder cattle.
A few sales are coming up after this meeting. You might have a better idea of what you can afford to pay for feeder calves and steers.

Two speakers will be present,
one from the University and one from the Illinois Producers Association. Expected Larry Simmerl and Eddie Lamb.

The supply situation for hogs,
cattle, feed, market trends and consumer demands will be fully discussed. Questions will be considered and answered in so far as the outlook indicates. Price of grain and other farm products
will be discussed.

All are invited to attend. This meeting certainly should help you plan your 1958 program, Kimmel said.

Never refuel a tractor or motor when it is running or extremely hot.

Winter Wheat Acreage Reserve Sign-Up Will End On October 4

Farmers who plan to participate in the '58 Wheat Acreage Reserve program should take steps in the coming week to establish a soil bank base for their respective farms, Herman Driskell,
chairman of the Saline County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, urges.

Although Oct. 4 is the final date
for signing an agreement, there is considerable preliminary work that should be done. If farmers will cooperate by working out the base at an early date, we will then have time for inspection and possibly measurement of the acreage reserve before the deadline.
This is to the advantage of all parties, said Mr. Driskell.

The base will be determined on the basis of the average acreage of land devoted to soil bank base crops during 1956 and 1957. In general, the base crops are all crops produced for harvest except hay.

Agreements that are already signed may be changed or terminated anytime before Oct. 4. Cancellation is not permitted after the sign-up date.

Any farmer who wishes to sign an acreage reserve agreement, or who desires any additional information about the Soil Bank program, should call at the county
office located in the City Hall building, Harrisburg.

This Week at DIXON SPRINGS University of Illinois Experiment Station

(A round-up of the week's work, activities, and observations at the University of Illinois Dixon Springs Experiment Station near Robbs in southern Illinois, prepared by the Station's staff.)

Gold today, as it has been for centuries, is the symbol of wealth.
Alchemists of the Dark Ages attempted to make it. Stories of pirate's gold have widened the eyes of millions of youthful readers. Men in feverish haste have abandoned farm, business and family in search of it. But, as much as gold has altered the destinies of men, towns and even nations, its value, weight for weight, is inconsequential when compared with the value of stilbesterol.

The "Forty-Niners" rushed to the California gold fields, and today feeders with quieter but equal speed have hastened to use this growth and fattening hormone.
Probably no laboratory product has moved more swiftly from the experiment stations to the farms.

Holding a Ton of Beef
Our Station superintendent, Bob Webb, recently held in his hand
fewer than one hundred stilbesterol pellets, each smaller in diameter than the lead of a pencil and thinner than a dime, altogether weighing less than 17 grains of wheat, and Bob proclaimed, "I am holding the potential of a ton of beef."

Bob was basing this statement on a feeding trial as carried out by George Cmarik, cattle researcher,
and Oakley Robinson, cattle herds-
man. George and Oakley implanted twenty 700-pound steers each with 48 milligrams of stilbesterol
and compared their feeding gains with those of twenty steers without implants. For 153 days the implanted steers gained an average of 3.10 pounds a day as against 2.54 pounds for the control group.
Thus each implanted steer put on 86 more pounds of beef than did his no-implant counterpart. To have made the same total gain, the steers without the advantage of stilbesterol would have needed another 30 to 40 days of feed, and each would have eaten another 10
bushels of corn.

Hundreds of Times as Valuable Impressive as the above figures are, the really high value of stilbesterol may slip by unless we compare it with that ageless symbol of wealth, gold. Gold is weighed in grains, and 13.71 grains are worth one dollar. This same weight of stilbesterol is enough to implant

18½ steers and to produce 1,600 pounds of additional gain worth over $350. Will you allow us to say that stilbesterol is 350 times as valuable as gold?

Specialist Recommends Clark Beans

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Clark
soybeans were recommended to 145
Agronomy Day visitors at Southern Illinois University, Friday afternoon (Sept. 13), as the best variety
for Illinois farmers.

R. L. Bernard, University of Illinois soybean plant breeding specialist, said this medium season type has consistently topped other tested at various experimental centers in the state. In six years of work near Eldorado Clark has averaged eight bushels per acre
more than Lincoln and Chief varieties; seven more than Wabash,
and five more than Perry, all good kinds grown by farmers. The same has been noted in the three years that tests have been underway at the Carbondale Cooperative Agronomy Research Center, jointly operated by SIU and the University of Illinois.

Joseph P. Pavra, SIU soil scientist, reported finding no significant soybean growth response to applications of magnesium to the soil in test plots at the station.

Visitors saw considerable differences in the appearance and vigor of corn growing on deep tillage experimental plots which received different fertility treatments. The program is being supervised by Pavra and A. L. Lang, University of Illinois soils specialist, who explained the project.

C. N. Hittle, University of Illinois forage expert, pointed out differing characteristics of part of the 42 varieties of hybrid grain sorghums being tested at the station. Losses from birds feeding on the grain in the fall, and the high moisture content of the grain at maturity are two problems facing farmers who grow grain sorghums.
High yields and good feeding value,

SIDE GLANCES

By Galbraith

"You might get pretty far in this game, grandpa, if only you weren't a sucker for a high fast ball!"

S.I.U. Country Column

By Albert Meyer

Here are two farming hints for late summer.

First, be careful when filling upright silos. A partly filled silo can be a death trap for the unwary farmer who enters it while the silage is fermenting, according to various experts. This most likely occurs when the silo is first entered after it has been standing idle
over night, or for a day or two.

Nitrates in corn are released
during fermentation and may form poisonous gases which are heavier than air and collect in the partly filled silo or "flow" out of openings to the ground surrounding the structure. The danger is worse in some years than others,
depending on weather conditions.
Missouri reports claim that the nitrate content of corn in some areas is heavier now than usual because of recent dry weather.

Recommended precautions are:
Operate the silage blower for a short time before entering the silo when resuming filling operations after the machinery has been idle during the night, or longer.
This will blow out any toxic gases that may have accumulated in the silo and will bring in fresh air.
Keep livestock out of the immediate area, including barns connected to the silo, for several days after a silo has been filled. The heavy toxic gases may linger around the base of the silo or in the barn and kill livestock. The gas-forming fermentation will soon be completed and then the danger disappears.

The other hint: Service the air
cleaner on your tractor frequently, especially now that field work is more likely to stir up a cloud of dust. Agricultural engineers say that more tractor troubles result from lack of air cleaner service
than from any other single cause.
Manufacturers recommend daily service of the air cleaner cup, but few farmers follow this advice—
even once weekly.

The engineers say that air cleaner neglect is a quick ticket to the repair shop. Illinois tests indicated that intake valves from farm-owned tractors with poor air cleaner service had three times
as much wear as valves in tractors with proper care. Neglect of cleaner service also speeds wear
on rings, pistons, sleeves, and bear-

as well as resistance to drouth, are advantages.

SIU specialist, Herbert Portz, pointed out observations gathered from experiments with forage sor-ghums. Advantages over corn for silage are that the sorghum stays green longer and some of the hybrid types yield greater tonnage per acre. Disadvantages of some varieties are lateness and lodging because of tall growth. He said considerable more research is needed.

ings, and promotes the formation
of oil sludge.

A tractor engine uses about 225, 000 cubic feet of air per day. In the field this amount of air often contains one-half pound of dust.
Think what would happen if this were not taken out by the air cleaner. If properly serviced, the cleaner will trap 99 percent of the dust.

Dirt collects in four places that need cleaning: the screened cap,
on the sides of the center pipe, in the bottom of the oil cup, and in the filter element.

The following procedures are suggested to keep most cleaners
performing efficiently:

Inspect the air cleaner oil cup daily (or in every 10 hours of operation). If more than one-fourth inch of dirt has collected or if the oil has thickened, clean the cup and fill it with new oil. See that the oil is maintained at the proper level whether it is cleaned or not.
The oil should be of the same type and viscosity as the oil used in the crankcase. Also check the lower screen of the filter element and remove chaff or dirt that may have collected. The screened cap may need daily cleaning, too.

Approximately once monthly (or 100 hours) clean the center pipe
by ramming a cloth through it.
Generally the pipe may be inspected when the top cap and the oil cup have been removed.

At least once each year remove the air cleaner from the tractor and thoroughly clean it with solvent or kerosene. If possible, remove the filter element and clean out all dirt and chaff. Some owners take the cleaners to their dealers for a yearly scrubbing with a steam cleaner.

Court of Appeals Upholds Minimum Wages in Gov't-Purchased Coal

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. Court of Appeals has upheld the right of the secretary of labor to set minimum wages in the bituminous coal industry under U. S. government purchase contracts. The decision, rendered Thursday and published Friday, confirms the broad interpretation of the Labor Department's minimum wage authority which labor secretaries have been making under the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act since its passage in 1936.

Ruth Elkhorn Coals Inc. carried the case to the Appeals Court after er a District Court upheld Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell's determination of prevailing minimum wages in the bituminous industry.

The company contended that the law does not apply to this industry because it exempts suppliers of material "as may usually be bought in the open market."

The three-judge appeals court disagreed. It cited specific exemptions and language written into the law which "indicate that Congress did not intend the open market exemption itself to exclude supplies simply because they were available generally in the open market."

Congress' purpose in writing the law, the court said, has been previously found to be "to use the leverage of the government's immense purchasing power to raise labor standards."

Rossiter Heads Democratic County Chairmen

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Peter Rossiter, Springfield, Friday was elected chairman of a newly formed state Democratic county chairmen's organization at a meeting marked by criticism of the new Independent Democratic Federation of Illinois.

Other officers of the new county chairmen's group are William T. Lodge, Monticello, 1st vice chairman; Leo Fitzgerald, Ashland, 2nd vice chairman; Claude Flynn, Galesburg, secretary; and James McLaughlin, Mount Vernon, treasurer.

Rossiter and all other speakers at the meeting took pains to say they were not "anti Cook County" or "anti Daley" (Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley).

But the leaders behind formation of the organization, notably John R. Asher, state central committeeman from Paris, have been critical of Daley and other Cook County leaders for allegedly giving downstate too little voice in party affairs.

State Rep. Paul Powell (D-Vien-na) and state party treasurer Joe Knight, Dow, led the attack on the new Democratic federation which is to be organized at a meeting here next week.

Leaders in the federation movement have said they want to work with the regular party organization, although not be a part of it, and do not want to supplant the regular organization.

But Powell criticized persons he said had never worked for the party at the precinct level and were now "trying to take over the organization."

Knight said the party in recent years has been afflicted with "carpet baggers" and that "some of these people are among the ones trying now to set up" an organization separate from the regular party machinery.

Kiwanis Club To Observe Kids' Day On Sept. 28

Kids' Day, sponsored by Kiwanis International, will be celebrated Saturday, Sept. 28, in Harrisburg and in hundreds of other communities throughout the United States, Canada, Alaska and Hawaii, using the theme—"Boys and Girls—Our Greatest Resource."

Richard Davenport, president of the Kiwanis club, said that although this is the ninth annual observance of Kids' Day, it is the fourth year of sponsorship exclusively by Kiwanis International and its member clubs throughout North America. He further stated that work on this ninth annual celebration is well underway and it is expected that more clubs than ever before will participate in this annual activity for youth.

Mr. Davenport pointed out that youth work has been a major aim of Kiwanis International throughout 42 years of its existence. The Kids' Day program, one of Kiwanis' major activities for youth, focuses attention on this important work of the organization on one day, and permits each club to develop a local program best suited to its community while integrating it with the club's year-round program for youth.

Last year over a million three hundred thousand children were entertained on Kids' Day and Kiwanis clubs raised more than $1,000,000 for their youth service work. Mr. Davenport stressed that these funds are retained in the communities where they are collected and used entirely in local youth projects.

Members of the local Kiwanis club and Key club will be on the streets Saturday, Sept. 28, selling peanuts in an effort to raise money for youth activities.

At 10 a. m. on the same day, the Kiwanis club will sponsor a free movie for children at the Grand theatre.

Handsome and wearable coats from American designers show great diversity of line. Shorter coat length (left) tapers down to the hemline, has intricate seaming. Sleeves are set with deep arm holes; slanted pockets carry out the line. The more conventional coat appears (center) in imported tweed with push-up sleeves and high button front. The luxury of cashmere and mink are combined (right) in the cocoon silhouette. Set-in sleeves achieve the dolman look through cutaway cut. Shawl collar is in ranch mink. All designs shown here are by LaVigna. And all three can go from fall into winter.

'Daniel, Steadfast in Crisis'

Daniel 5:1-16; 22-28
MEMORY VERSE: "Be strong in the Lord and in the power of His might." (Ephesians 6:10)

INTRODUCTION — Daniel has been one of my favorite characters for many years. As a lad I used to love to think on the adventures of this brave man. Now that I have grown older, the story of his experiences have lost none of their fascination for me. As a young man, Daniel had clean habits. He refused to defile his body by eating or drinking anything that would be harmful to his health. He was not afraid to stand for that which was right. We hear the song: "Dare to Be a Daniel," and are inspired by it. The world is in serious need today of many men who would "dare to be a Daniel."

His faith in God was steadfast and unmovable. In the very face of death, Daniel trusted God. It is no wonder that fire could not burn him, nor lions devour him. He had too much of God in him to be daunted by anything this world could fling against him.

I DANIEL, MAN OF CONVICTION (1:13-15)

Nebuchadnezzar was king of Babylon. He had been victorious in battle and had many captives. Among the prisoners there was the young man, Daniel. Now, the king needed some young men, from among his captives, to serve as leaders. He chose Daniel and his three friends, Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego.

The king gave orders that all the young men should be fed the same food and wine that the king himself ate and drank. Daniel and his companions refused to drink the wine and eat the king's dainties. They asked for simple food with water to drink. They even made a test of it. They told the king to see for himself, at the end of ten days, which of the young men were most physically fit.

At the end of the test period there was no doubt in anybody's mind about which young men were the best physical specimens. Daniel and his companions were stronger and healthier than all the rest.

Let us not miss an opportunity here. The same is true today. Those who never drink alcoholic beverages will always remain healthier and stronger. Every bottle of beer, or drink of liquor is registered in the nervous system and will one day take its toll. There is no escape from this fact!

II DANIEL UNAFRAID (5:1-18)

Belshazzar was now king of Babylon. He was an evil man. He had been warned about his evil regard toward the Temple and its vessels. He paid no attention to the warnings.

Belshazzar made a great feast. His banquet halls were filled with drunken men and women of high estate. He took the golden, sacred vessels from the Temple and used them to drink wine.

God would stand for no more. He caused a man's hand to appear and begin to write on the walls of the banquet hall. Belshazzar was really frightened. His knees smote together.

Daniel stood in the midst of those drunken noblemen and witnessed for God. (My! how God needs men who will stand unafraid for Him today!) Daniel delivered God's message. He interpreted the handwriting on the wall.

Young people today need to know that God will give added courage to them when they witness for Him. Recently a young soldier refused to eat at the table in the mess-hall on an army base where beer was served. Because of his stand, the commanding officer ordered that no more beer be served in the mess hall. That took courage!

III DANIEL SPOKE FOR GOD (5:22-28)

Daniel spoke to the king face to face and told him that God's judgment was upon him. He said, "you have known all this, and yet you lifted up yourself against God." Then it was that Daniel told the king that he was doomed; "God hath numbered thy kingdom and brought it to an end. Thou art weighed in the balances and found wanting," said Daniel.

God's spokesman can never pull punches and be true to God. When there is an evil, God will raise someone up to strike at it. Ministers of the gospel, and all Christian people, are called upon by the Almighty God, to strike at sin wherever it raises its ugly head.

CONCLUSION — Daniel was brave. His courage came from God. The same God who stood by Daniel is still on His throne today. He is as ready to give His people courage today as He was in Daniel's day. Christian friend, why not, "dare to be a Daniel?"

REMEMBER?

Being a child isn't nearly so much fun when it's happening, as it is when you look back on it!

Somehow we remember, when we get a little older, just how much better strawberry shortcake tasted then, and how special each day seemed. We forget the scraped knees, the hurt feelings, the times when we were naughty and got punished!

Most of us belonged to some particular church in our childhood. Looking back, it often seems like it was the best church in the world. Yet... like so much of what we remember of childhood... it wasn't really—BECAUSE ALL CHURCHES ARE WONDERFUL.

"In My Father's House Are Many Mansions." Jesus wasn't speaking of earthly houses. Yet, on earth, God has many mansions too. Your church... anybody's church... is one of them.

Go to Church this Sunday, especially if you haven't been for a while. You'll find that going to church now is a lot better than just remembering the church of your childhood.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

★ EDSON IN WASHINGTON ★

Here's the Story of Soviet Rocket Missile Production

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Rivalry between the United States and Russia to produce the first successful intercontinental ballistic missile—ICBM—has been largely a race between the two countries to develop Germany's World War II V-2 rockets.

The Germans fired 1,300 V-2's at London from September 1944 to March 1945. They killed 2,500 people, wounded 6,000 and caused property damage of many million dollars.

Then Allied invasion forces conquered German launching sites and the bombardment ended. For a time, U. S. forces held the German underground V-2 works at Peenemunde on the Baltic Sea. It was commanded by Maj. Gen. Walter R. Dornberger, who came to the U. S. at the end of the war and became Bell Aircraft consultant in 1948.

Before U. S. forces were ordered to move back, they got possession of a mass of German technical data. They also got a stockpile of German V-2's. These were transported to the U. S. and given a series of test firings from 1945 to 1948.

WHAT WAS EVEN more important, the United States persuaded nearly 200 of the top German rocket and electronics scientists to come to this country and continue their research. Their alternative was to stay in Peenemunde and be captured by the Russians. They chose freedom.

When the Russians did move in, their first program was to demolish the Peenemunde center. This policy was quickly reversed. The Russians began to rebuild Peenemunde. Richard E. Stockwell in his book, "Soviet Airpower," gives Gen. Vasily Stalin credit for persuading his father, Premier Joe Stalin, to carry on missile research and development.

The top German scientist who fell into Russian hands is believed to be Helmut Gottfrid. He had been an assistant director in charge of guided missile control at Peenemunde.

In general, it is believed that while the U. S. got the best German missile brains, the Russians got the second echelon technical men, plus most of the machinery and tools in a factory capable of being put back into operation.

THE RUSSIANS instituted a crash production program. By 1950 they were reported making 2,000 to 3,000 V-2's a year. To the Russians they became the T-1's. In 1945 they had a 200-mile range. By 1954 their range was reported at 800 miles.

Among the top German missile experts to come to the U. S. was Dr. Werner von Braun, now director of the U. S. Army guided missile development group, Redstone Arsenal, Huntsville, Ala. Dr. Von Braun had built his first rocket, the A-1, in 1933. By 1942 he had produced the A-4, forerunner of the V-2.

At the same time, the Germans were working on intercontinental ballistic missiles. They called this Project America. The goal was a missile which could be launched at Hamburg and make the 3,800-mile flight to New York in under two hours.

This was a two-stage missile, a combination of German A-9 and A-10 designs. The A-9 was actually test-fired at Peenemunde, but the A-10 was still on drawing boards at the war's end.

The Russians developed this into their T-2 model, with an initial thrust of 250,000 pounds. It was reported as having been successfully test-fired as early as 1954.

ACCORDING TO Dr. Dornberger, the Russians had a three-stage missile as early as 1950. But the Russian ICBM—the T-3 recently reported by Moscow as having been successfully launched with a 5,000-mile range, is generally believed to be another two-stage missile.

Dr. Eugen Saenger of Stuttgart, Germany, one of the top missile scientists whom the Russians tried but failed to kidnap, now reports the Russians have a T-4 model under construction, with a range of from 4,000 to 10,000 miles. But it is not expected to be ready before 1960.

The Russian approach to the missile race has been to get into production fast with the best multipurpose designs available at any given time.

The American approach has been toward greater research and development of many models. This difference may be responsible for putting the Russians ahead on missile production today. But for the long run, the U. S. expects to produce better missiles with greater range and accuracy.

Galatia High School Notes

51 ENROLLED IN DRIVER TRAINING

Fifty-one Galatia high school students are enrolled in the driver training program, being offered at the Galatia high school for the first time, with J. W. Pulliam the instructor.

Any student enrolling in the driver training program, required for members of the Junior class, must have been 16 years of age at the time school started, Principal Jack Large stated.

Each student will be required to complete 30 clock hours of classroom instruction and six hours of actual "behind-the-wheel" driving. Students successfully completing the course, including the state driver's license examination, will be allowed a full credit toward graduation, Mr. Large said.

The automobile for the driver's training program at Galatia, a 1957 Bel-Aire Chevrolet, has been loaned to the school at no charge by the Cotter Chevrolet Service of Ridgway.

Starting with this term the State will reimburse schools at the rate of $30 per pupil for all students completing the driver's training course and with the car being furnished at no cost. Mr. Large believes the state money will permit Galatia to add this course without any cost to the school district.

Student Council representatives and home reporters have been elected at the Galatia Community High school as follows:

Senior class: Student Council, Imogene Gogue and Don Clarida; reporters, Jo Dene Anderson and Jim Woolard;

Junior class: Student Council, Noel Hankins and Ruby Knight; reporters, Peggy Mitchell and Willie Griffin;

Stophomore class: Student Council, Barbara Phelps and Mickey Martin; reporters, Joan Martin and Wesley Hefflin;

Freshman class: Student Council, Overton Hall and Wanda Patterson; reporters, Richard Nevi-ous and Janet Wickham.

AFL-CIO Lists Worth

WASHINGTON (AP)—The AFL-CIO reported Thursday that as of last June 30 its net worth was $6,330,613. The labor organization's biggest asset was its ultra-modern Washington headquarters building valued at close to five million dollars. President George Meany and Secretary-Treasurer William F. Schnitzler together receive a total of $68,000 in salaries, the financial statement said.

No Takers
CORTLAND, N. Y. — (UP) — Merchant Howard Shaver has a notion his fellow townsmen aren't interested in bargains. He posted a sign that read, "Special today—$1 bill reduced to 77 cents." He had no takers.

The lichen is nature's pioneer. A unique partnership of fungus and alga, the composite plant produces acid that breaks stone into soil. This action turns barren wasteland into a place where trees and flowers can grow the National Geographic Society says.

Yankees Near Pennant; Braves, Cardinals Win

By United Press

The mighty New York Yankees may spring the trap on the Chicago White Sox by sundown today but it appears it'll be a case of slow strangulation before the Milwaukee Braves choke off the St. Louis Cardinals' last hopes.

The stage was set for the final act of the American League pennant race Friday night when the Yankees downed the Boston Red Sox, 7-4, and went seven games in front as a result of the Cleveland Indians' 3-2 triumph over the White Sox. That reduced the Yankees' magic number to two—and it will come up today if the Yankees beat the Red Sox again and the White Sox lose one game of their double-header with the Indians.

The Braves set the Cardinals up for the kill with a 9-3 romp over the Chicago Cubs in an afternoon game but the Redbirds refused to become dead birds by rallying to beat the Cincinnati Redlegs, 7-5, in a 10-inning night game decided by Joe Cunningham's two-run homer. That left the Braves' lead at four games and their magic number at five—with eight games left for each team.

Williams Pinch-Homers

Casey Stengel drew closer to his eighth pennant in nine years when the Yankees built up an early 7-0 lead and then staved off a four-run ninth-inning rally marked by a tremendous pinch-hit homer by Ted Williams. The Red Sox added three runs and kayoed Whitey Ford before Bob Grim came out of the bullpen to restore order.

Ford pitched two-hit ball and struck out eight through the first eight innings. Yogi Berra hammered a three-run homer for the big blow in the Yankees' nine-hit attack which brought Ford his 11th victory compared to four defeats.

The White Sox' loss was a heart-breaker. Dick Donovan carried a 2-1 lead into the ninth as a result of his own homer and one by batterymate Earl Battey only to have the Indians rally for two runs.

The Braves unleashed a 14-hit attack that enabled Warren Spahn to become the majors' first 20-game winner of the year although he needed relief aid from Don McMahon, the fireballing rookie relief specialist.

Cards Need Rally

Cunningham, a deadly pinch-hitter all season, entered the St. Louis lineup as an unsuccessful pinch-swing in the eighth and remained in the game to deliver the homer that kept the Cards alive. The blow, which followed a walk to Wally Moon, came after the Cardinals rallied from an early 4-1 deficit to tie the score with single runs in the seventh and ninth innings. Stan Musial singled home the seventh-inning run and 42-year-old Walker Cooper singled home the tying tally in the ninth.

Archie Moore Wins TKO in 7th

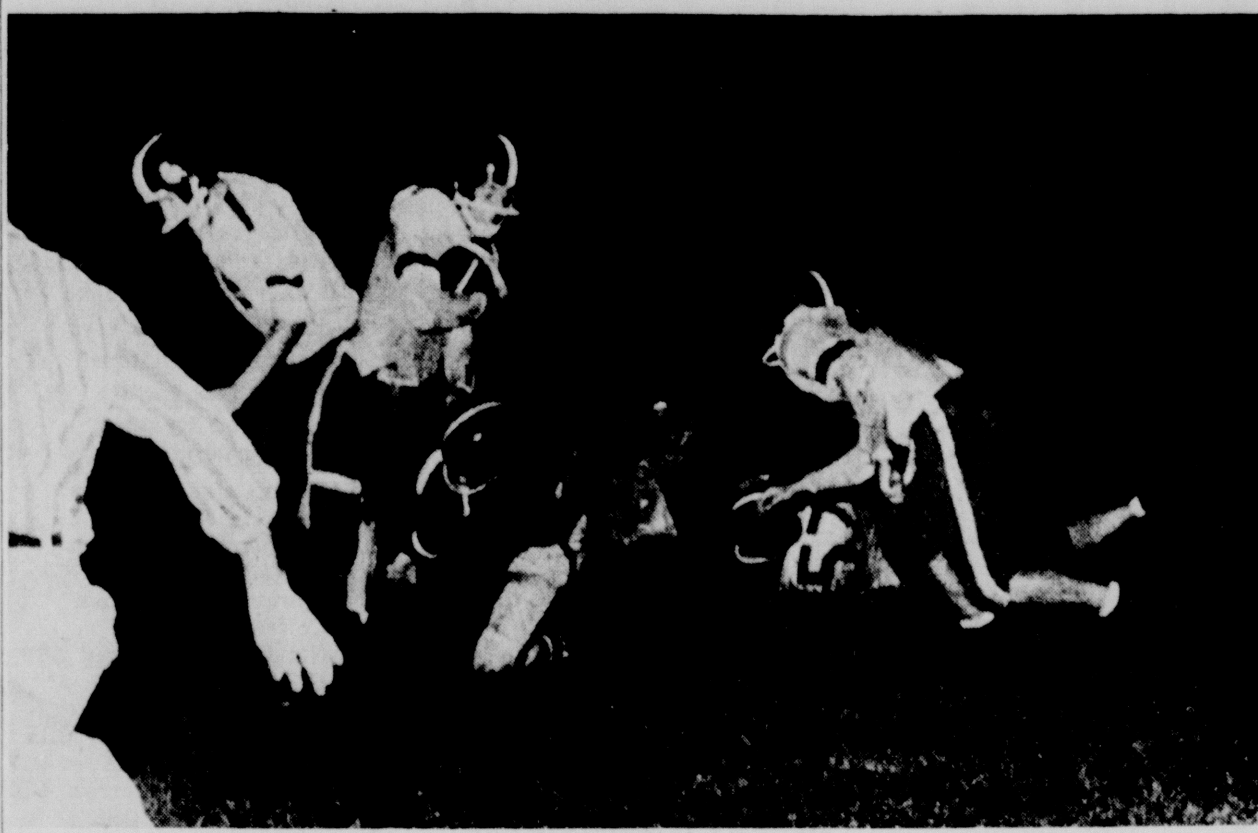

LOS ANGELES (U)—Like Ol' Man River, Archie Moore, aged 40—something, just keeps rollin' along. In fact, he was talking about a "comeback" in the heavyweight division today after giving the audacious young challenger, Tony Anthony, a terrible shellacking Friday night and finally scoring a technical knockout in the 7th round.

"But that was one of my better fights last night," he said. "I'm in real fine condition. Maybe before I try the heavyweights we might give that young fellow from Canada, Yvon Durelle, a shot at my title. After all, he fought a draw with Anthony and deserves it."

Archie was hardly puffing after he completed his chore against the 22-year-old Anthony before a slim house of about 7,500, who paid $60,000.

However, millions more watched the bout on television.

Eagles Win, 58-0

Score Early, Often Against McLeansboro

Eldorado scored early and often at McLeansboro Friday night to roll up a 58-0 decision over the Foxes.

For Eldorado it was the second consecutive win of the season and gave the Eagles the record of scoring the first victory in the Southern Illinois conference.

The undermanned, inexperienced, lighter Foxes were no match for the power-laden Eldorado squad and even though Eldorado Coach Al Adams played every one of his 30-player varsity squad the score continued to mount.

Eldorado, hoping for an undefeated, unscathed conference season, rushed in the first string defensive unit a couple of times when the Foxes made scoring threats. But all the boys saw considerable action.

Gain 491 Yards

Five Eagles made touchdowns with Co-Captain Doc Feaguy scoring four TDs. He also had a point after touchdown. Jack Fowler, junior halfback, scored twice, Co-captain Jim Woods, end Thornton Davis and halfback Bill Smith also scored TDs. Davis, fullback Jerry Rains and tackle Bernard Goodley also counted PATs.

Eldorado had a net gain of 491 yards from scrimmage, including 120 by passing. McLeansboro's net gain was 18 yards and until the final quarter the Foxes had a loss of 30 yards for their efforts.

Eldorado took the opening kickoff and Feaguy carried to the Eagles' 43. Rains, Fowler and Feaguy alternated to advance the ball to the four yard line, then Fowler went over. Feaguy scored, the PAT. The clock showed 9:04 remaining to be played.

Less than two minutes later McLeansboro's punt rolled out on the 23 and on the first play Feaguy broke away for the TD. A Justice-to-Fowler pass, covering 31 yards, accounted for another TD late in the quarter and Rains carried for the PAT.

Shortly after the second quarter started Eldorado took the ball on its own 34. On the first play from scrimmage Feaguy, behind beautiful down-field blocking ran 66 yards for a TD.

New Backfield Fails to Score

A new backfield began operation for Eldorado with Gary Reasons, Chuck McCallister and Leonard Willis showing fine running ability. But the quarter's final TD was scored by the regulars, on a Justice-to-Woods pass covering 16 yards. Goodley came out from his tackle position to carry for the PAT.

The third quarter TDs were scored by a Justice-to-Fowler pass, the play covering 53 yards and a Justice-to-Davis pass, covering 20 yards. Mike McMahon, tackle, came out of the line both times for the PAT, but failed to get over for the point.

Early in the final frame Willis, Rains, Brown and Smith alternated to get inside the 10-yard line, then Smith carried for the TD. Fowler passed to Davis for the PAT.

With third stringers manning Eldorado's defense McLeansboro made a scoring threat that carried to the 18, then the regulars went in and held. On two plays McCallister carried the ball to mid-field, then Feaguy exploded for a 50-yard TD run with the clock showing :55 left to go.

Play Harrisburg Friday
Eldorado made 13 first downs to five for McLeansboro and the Eagles suffered heavily by penalties—losing a total of 80 yards, including four penalties of 15 yards each.

Starting lineups — Eldorado: Woods and Baugher ends, Goodley and McMahon tackles, Holman and Laffoon guards, Pool center, Justice, Fowler, Feaguy and Rains backs; McLeansboro: Sloan and Hickerson ends, York and Upton tackles, Jordan and Ventress guards, McDonald center, Johnson, Sandusky, Tyler and Reed backs. Officials: Driggers, Mt. Vernon; O'Brien, Carbondale; Huff, Du Quoin.

Next week Eldorado will be at home to Harrisburg and McLeansboro goes to Valer.

Score on Pass Early In Third Quarter; Hold Off Late Wildcat Drive

The Harrisburg Bull Dogs had a hard time eking out a 6-0 win over the Marion Wildcats in a South Seven conference football opener played Friday night at Taylor Field.

The weather was fine for the crowd and a bit hot for the players and a good-sized gathering was on hand to witness a contest that Harrisburg was expected to win.

But the locals, who were not near as sharp as they were in losing 7-0 to Murphysboro in the season's first contest, were able to score only on a rather lengthy pass and had Marion knocking at the touchdown door shortly before the game ended.

Harrisburg this year again has very little running attack, which throws a big job on the defense to keep the opposition from scoring. The defensive boys again were marvelous when they had to be.

Wildcat Drive Thrown Back

Best example was in the last minute of play, when Marion, after completing consecutive passes of six, 18 and 24 yards, had a first down on the Harrisburg five. Four plays later the Marion team was back on the 13 and had lost possession of the ball on downs.

The Harrisburg score came early in the third quarter on a Ray Hassett to Ira Logan pass. The Bull Dogs had been floundering around on offense but through good defensive play had put Marion in the hole on the M-1. Marion punted out and two plays later with the ball on the M-27 Hassett uncorked a pass to Logan, who caught it around his 15 unmolested and raced easily into the end zone. Ron Maynard's placement for extra point hit the crossbar and bounded downward.

Intercept Pass

Both teams had a first quarter touchdown drive. Marion intercepted a Harrisburg pass on the third play of the game, and after a four-yard gain Don Stewart ran the ball 32 yards to the 12. The next play took the ball to the H-1, but after a three-yard loss Marion passed and Hassett intercepted.

Then Harrisburg started its touchdown drive, pushing for five consecutive first downs with a 10-yard run by Bill Yates and a nine-yard jaunt by Mickey Stone the longest gains, but when the Bull Dogs reached the M-23, they were penalized back to the M-41 for holding.

In Marion's late drive for a tally, quarterback John Shotton, a lanky lad, was doing the passing. But for some stalwart defensive linemen like Jack Simpson, Gary Aldridge, Darrell Biggs, Bud Logan, Allen Buchanan, Don Pickford, Bill Yates and Ronnie Maynard, Harrisburg would be in the South Seven cellar today.

Coach Lawrence Caluffetti started Pickford and Logan at ends, Simpson and Maynard at tackles, Aldridge and Endsley at guards, Buchanan at center, Hassett at quarterback, Stone and Yates at halfbacks and Price at fullback. Biggs played on defense in place of Aldridge and Yates moved up to end on defense. Only other players to see action were Leverett at guard, Fisher at fullback, Dalton at halfback and Beal at tackle.

Play Eldorado Next Week

Statistics show Harrisburg made seven first downs to six for Marion. The locals made 121 yards from scrimmage with 73 coming from rushing and 48 from passing. Marion made 114 from scrimmage with 51 from rushing and 63 from passing.

Harrisburg completed four of 13 passes for 48 yards with two intercepted. Marion completed four out of 10 for 63 yards with one intercepted. Marion was penalized 60 yards, Harrisburg 40.

The Harrisburg band entertained at halftime and did a superlative job, considering the small time it has had for practice.

Next week Harrisburg travels to Eldorado to meet the strong Eagles.

By United Press

Shelbyville put a knot in Effingham's 10-game victory string in a top battle on the Illinois prep football card Friday night, holding the Flaming Hearts to a 6-6 tie.

Peoria Manual, which racked up 60 points in its opener last week, put on another blazing display of power in smashing Springfield Lanphier 45-6.

In southern Illinois, the always strong Murphysboro Red Devils thumped Pinckneyville 40-6 for their second victory, West Frankfort added its second win, 33-18 over Johnston City, and Herrin, a 32-0 winner last week, conquered Mount Vernon 29-13.

Pekin came back from a defeat by Galesburg to edge East Peoria 13-12, and Peoria Spalding dumped Canton 33-13.

Ottawa scored its second win of the season, 7-0 over Streator, and De Kalb notched its second triumph, 19-6 over Belvedere.

Springfield Cathedral smacked Taylorville 27-0. Also in the mid-state area, Staunton's Bulldogs handed Litchfield its second defeat 41-12. Hillsboro turned back Gillespie 25-6, and Quincy Notre Dame defeated Beardstown 14-0.

Danville stopped Kankakee 19-6, and Wheaton routed Sycamore 33-14.
